

Meeting Date: September 17-18, 2024

Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) Meeting Results

FOMC meeting highlights:

- The Fed cut rates by 0.50%, the current Fed Funds rate is now 4.75 – 5.00%. This meeting's vote was not unanimous – there was one dissenting vote!
- The FOMC, which began to shrink its securities portfolio on June 1, 2022, announced it will continue to reduce its holdings of Treasury securities and agency debt and agency mortgage-backed securities.
- The Committee emphasized that it is strongly committed to returning inflation to its 2% objective.

Economic highlights:

Economic activity continues to grow at a solid pace, but the job market is showing signs of weakness, and inflation remains above the long term target of 2%.

- “Recent indicators suggest that economic activity has continued to expand at a solid pace. Job gains have slowed, and the unemployment rate has moved up but remains low. Inflation has made further progress toward the Committee's 2% objective but remains somewhat elevated.”

- “The Committee seeks to achieve maximum employment and inflation at the rate of 2% over the longer run.”
- “The Committee has gained greater confidence that inflation is moving sustainably toward 2%, and judges that the risks to achieving its employment and inflation goals are roughly in balance.”
- “The economic outlook is uncertain, and the Committee is attentive to the risks to both sides of its dual mandate.”

Announcements:

Fed funds rate was cut by 50 bps, and is now at a range of 4.75 – 5.00%, and balance sheet reductions continue.

- “In light of the progress on inflation and the balance of risks, the Committee decided to lower the target range for the federal funds rate by .50 percentage point to 4.75 to 5.00%.”
- “In considering additional adjustments to the target range for the federal funds rate, the Committee will carefully assess incoming data, the evolving outlook, and the balance of risks.”
- “The Committee will continue reducing its holdings of Treasury securities and agency debt and agency mortgage-backed securities.”
- “The Committee is strongly committed to supporting maximum employment and returning inflation to its 2% objective.”
- “In assessing the appropriate stance of monetary policy, the Committee will continue to monitor the implications of incoming information for the economic outlook. The Committee would be prepared to adjust the stance of monetary policy as appropriate if risks emerge that could impede the attainment of the Committee's goals.”
- “The Committee's assessments will take into account a wide range of information, including readings on labor market conditions, inflation pressures and inflation expectations, and financial and international developments.”

Implementation note:

The Federal Reserve has made the following decisions to implement the monetary policy stance announced by the Federal Open Market Committee in its statement on September 18, 2024:

- The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System voted unanimously to lower the interest rate paid on reserve balances to 4.9%, effective September 19, 2024.

- As part of its policy decision, the Federal Open Market Committee voted to direct the Open Market Desk at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, until instructed otherwise, to execute transactions in the System Open Market Account in accordance with the following domestic policy directive:
- "Effective September 19, 2024, the Federal Open Market Committee directs the Desk to:
 - Undertake open market operations as necessary to maintain the federal funds rate in a target range of 4-3/4 to 5 percent.
 - Conduct standing overnight repurchase agreement operations with a minimum bid rate of 5 percent and with an aggregate operation limit of $500 billion.
 - Conduct standing overnight reverse repurchase agreement operations at an offering rate of 4.8 percent and with a per-counterparty limit of $160 billion per day.
 - Roll over at auction the amount of principal payments from the Federal Reserve's holdings of Treasury securities maturing in each calendar month that exceeds a cap of $25 billion per month. Redeem Treasury coupon securities up to this monthly cap and Treasury bills to the extent that coupon principal payments are less than the monthly cap.
 - Reinvest the amount of principal payments from the Federal Reserve's holdings of agency debt and agency mortgage-backed securities (MBS) received in each calendar month that exceeds a cap of $35 billion per month into Treasury securities to roughly match the maturity composition of Treasury securities outstanding.
 - Allow modest deviations from stated amounts for reinvestments, if needed for operational reasons.
 - Engage in dollar roll and coupon swap transactions as necessary to facilitate settlement of the Federal Reserve's agency MBS transactions."
- In a related action, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System voted unanimously to approve a 1/2 percentage point decrease in the primary credit rate to 5 percent, effective September 19, 2024. In taking this action, the Board approved requests to establish that rate submitted by the Board of Directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

Voting results:

One dissenting vote

Voting for the monetary policy action were Jerome H. Powell, Chair; John C. Williams, Vice Chair; Thomas I. Barkin; Michael S. Barr; Raphael W. Bostic; Lisa D. Cook; Mary C. Daly; Beth M. Hammack; Philip N. Jefferson; Adriana D. Kugler; and Christopher J. Waller. Voting against this action was Michelle W. Bowman, who preferred to lower the target range for the federal funds rate by 1/4 percentage point at this meeting.
